What you will learn

These workshops are not only about the outer observable phenomena of nature, but also about the soul's participation in the seasonal journey. Reference will be made to the 'Calendar of the Soul' which takes us on a unique inner and outer journey of soul and spiritual development. As we practice observing light, darkness, warmth and colour in nature something of a cleansing of the senses occurs. The soul becomes more awake and refreshed. Working with pictures from the Calendar of the Soul inspires and activates a realization of the interconnectedness of human beings, the earth, the cosmos and spiritual beings.

Techniques used

You will be translating your inner and outer observations into charcoal and watercolour exercises, both moist-on-moist and veil painting.
